

SEA FIGHT

Between Japs and Russians

About to Take Place in China Sea

ONLY THIRTY MILES APART

Official News of the Movements of Opposing Fleets in Eastern Waters.

London, April 8.—(Bulletin)—Late advices from Singapore indicate that the hostile fleets are this afternoon not more than 30 miles apart.

Singapore, April 8.—(Bulletin)—Rojestvensky's fleet was sighted at 2:10 this afternoon. The Russian fleet passed the harbor at 3 p. m., steaming northeast.

Jibuti, April 8.—(Bulletin)—The third Russian Baltic squadron, under Admiral Niebogato, sailed from here yesterday. The vessels took a south-westerly course.

Hong Kong, April 8.—(Bulletin)—The British China squadron is preparing to go to sea.

Washington, April 8.—(Bulletin)—Consul General Williams at Singapore, officially reported to the state department today that the Russian fleet had been sighted off that port.

London, April 8.—From the dispatches which have been received in the last twelve hours indicating that the Japanese and Russian fleets are really coming together it is regarded as almost certain that another great naval battle will be fought within the next few hours.

That the Russian fleet has advanced through the straits of Malacca, heading apparently for the China sea, is regarded as an indication that Admiral Rojestvensky has at last decided to meet the enemy in the battle which the czar regards as offering the only possibility of Russia regaining any semblance of her former prestige. The China sea will probably be the scene of the conflict if Rojestvensky adheres to his apparent intention of making for Saigon, the capital of French Cochinchina.

The Russian fleet has been sighted at Singapore, one of the strait settlements just south of the Malay peninsula. There are several openings through which the Russian fleet may pass from the straits of Malacca and it is believed that Admiral Togo is closely watching all of these passages. Little has been heard of Togo's fleet in the last few weeks. It is understood however, that the Japanese vessels have been cruising in the neighborhood of Singapore and the Linga archipelago. On March 16, vessels reported at Singapore of sighting 22 Japanese warships in that neighborhood.

By means of his scout ships it is believed the Japanese commander has been able to keep a close watch on all the passages by which the Russian fleet might pass from the Indian ocean which Rojestvensky has traversed coming from Madagascar, near which the Russian vessels cruised for so many weeks into the China sea. The Japanese vessels have been cruising with lights out at night and apparently were ready to meet the Russians at any moment. From the "lay of the land" it seems apparent that Togo will have something of an advantage in position. The straits of Malacca separate the large island of Sumatra from the Malay peninsula on the west and southwest. Singapore and Binciang and other islands of the Rhio archipelago lie south of the Malay peninsula, and separated from it by the strait of Singapore. These islands are to the east of Sumatra. Further southeast is the Linga archipelago, which is also east of Sumatra and separated from the latter by the Durian straits.

Togo will have the advantage that his vessels can be arranged in order of battle near any of the passages if sufficient warning is given of which one the Russian vessels are using. It is believed that his scouts can furnish this information. Coming out of the straits of Malacca, Rojestvensky may pass either through the strait of Singapore or he may go further south rounding the Linga archipelago. By the latter route more sea room would be secured. If Togo's fleet is on the watch it might be difficult for the Russian commander to arrange an effective line of battle before engaging the enemy. It is believed by the naval experts that Togo has intentionally allowed Rojestvensky to pass through the straits of Malacca unmolested, fearing that if a naval battle occurred there the narrowness of the straits would interfere with the maneuvers of his squadron.

By waiting until the Russians pass into the China sea more sea room will be secured and the possibility of an accident by which the outcome of the battle might be changed would be avoided in a great measure. It is thought that Togo plans to wait until Rojestvensky round Binciang the point of the Malay peninsula, or the lower islands of the Linga archipelago in case the Russian commander chooses the southernmost course, before making the attack. The Japanese apparently intend then to press the Russians close to the eastern coast of the Malay peninsula, duplicating the plan followed by the American fleet in the naval battle of Santiago, during the Spanish-American war when Admiral Cervera was kept close to the Cuban coast. It will make little difference by which of the two passages Rojestvensky attempts to enter the China sea, in case the Japanese squadron is strong enough to defeat its enemy. The fact that the fight will in all probability be fought close to land will probably mean that one or the other of the fleets will be annihilated and that the conflict will be decisive.

The dispatches today are conflicting as to which passage Rojestvensky intends to make his exit. Early messages said the Russian fleet was heading for the Durian straits. Later dispatches say that the fleet has passed the harbor of Singapore and is heading northeast. This would indicate that Rojestvensky intended using the Singapore strait. This would bring his vessels into the China sea at the southernmost point of the Malay peninsula and would give the opportunity for Togo to put into effect his plan of pressing the Russian vessels close to the coast.

The strength of the opposing fleets is not definitely known. The dispatches place Rojestvensky's fleet at between thirty and forty vessels, of which some at least are colliers. The fleet is largely made up of the remnants of the Russian fleet left after the former disastrous naval battles. Previous accounts of the fleet have indicated that the vessels were not in the best of condition and were not prepared for a hard battle. A part of the Russian fleet is also made up of small craft, such as torpedo boats and destroyers. The best vessels in the Japanese navy are now under Togo. In reports from Singapore, dated March 16 it was stated that his fleet numbered 22 vessels, all good sized warships. While the numerical advantage may be with Rojestvensky, there is little doubt that the greater part of the Japanese vessels are better prepared for a fight and in much better condition.

London, April 8.—Japan will carry on the war until Russia consents to pay indemnity, in the opinion of Baron Suematsu, formerly Japanese minister of the interior, who has written an interesting and significant article for the Outlook. He says:

"The world should know that in the present war Japan staked her very existence, whereas with the enemy it was a mere war of caprice. Why, then, in case of defeat, should not Russia be made responsible in equitable accordance with the nature of the affair? I believe, therefore, that in case of the adversary asking for peace the satisfaction which she will have to make to Japan should include making good the material loss of Japan; in other words, indemnity."

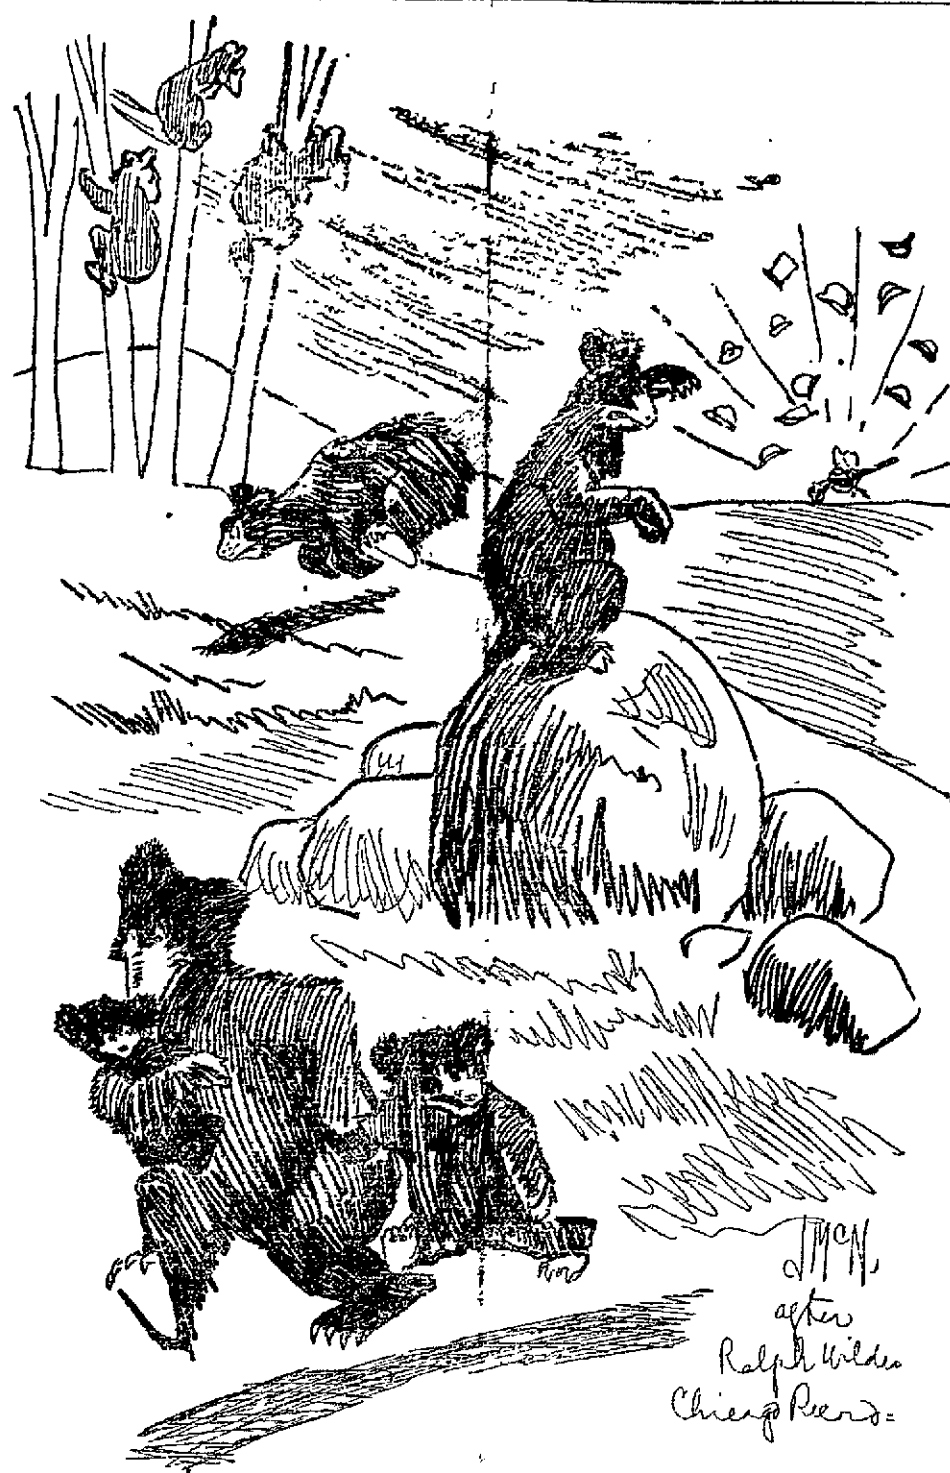

Baron Suematsu says further: "Japan has not formulated definite terms of peace, because she might be accused of skinning the bear before it is shot. We have, however, outlined our idea." The articles argue out the righteousness of Japan's position in demanding indemnity as a basic condition and controverts the idea which, he says, he finds prevalent outside of Japan, that Japan is willing to make peace at any price.

In conclusion Baron Suematsu says: "Some say that Japan might be induced to forego a claim for indemnity provided England and America gave good assurance for future peace. We appreciate, of course, the general sentiments of England and America. We are anxious to maintain the best friendship with these two countries, more particularly than other countries. We should, therefore, be sorry if we were to be told that we should forego on account of that friendship any claim to what we deem justice to demand."

Mayor-elect Durne who will be inaugurated Monday, announces his "strike policy" as follows: "I will preserve peace from the inception of any strike, but will exhaust every effort to bring about arbitration between employer and employee."

Montgomery, Ward & Co., backed by the Chicago Employers' Association, declared war against the striking teamsters and asked the business interests of the city to unite against the strikers. Western merchants who earlier in the season bought conservatively are now ordering freely. Money continues easy at most points. The last meeting of the Review club for the year was held at the home of Mrs. U. O. Stevens on Saturday, April first. An unusually interesting program was presented by members. Miss Carrie Allen gave a fine paper upon "What we learn from the ruins of Rome," and as Miss Allen was able to speak from the standpoint of a recent visitor to the Eternal City her paper possessed an added charm, causing her hearers most earnestly to wish for a like opportunity to view that most wonderful of all cities on the earth. Following this paper Mrs. Oscar Stevens, assisted by Mrs. Frank Hall, presented "The Poet's Round Table." These ladies succeeded in producing a most remarkable and realistic company supposed to represent King Arthur and his "Table Round." The lines were all in verse, written by Mrs. Stevens and Mrs. Hall, and were full of clever hits and witty allusions. The various characters from Arthur's court which were represented were: King Arthur, by Mrs. Frank Kenne-day; Queen Genevieve, Mrs. Kellenberger; Sir Lancelot of the Lake, Mrs. William Sedgwick; Sir Modred, Mrs. T. M. Edmiston; Merlin, Mrs. C. A. Hatch; Elaine, Miss Margaret Wallace; Vivien, Mrs. Frank Hall; Dag-onet, the King's Jester, Miss Grace Jones. Prologue, Page and Herald, Mrs. Oscar Stevens.

The costumes were mediaeval, and their wearers looked as though they had stepped forth from some old castle in very truth. Each part was so well taken that it proved only an opportunity was all that was needed to discover talents among club women hitherto unsuspected.

At the conclusion of the program, a most interesting season was spent discussing an appetizing supper. Several guests were present, among them Mrs. Milton Knodle of Richmond, Ind.

A most enjoyable time was had at the home of Lillian Denelsbeck on Hudson avenue, Saturday evening. About forty of Miss Lillian's friends were present, it being her fourteenth birthday anniversary. The dance was a "Pink Cotillion" and the color effect was beautiful—all the young ladies wearing either pink or white gowns. About 125 dancers were seen on the floor in the different figures, favor figures and game figures. The favors were especially pretty and elaborate, comprising paper muffs, hats, aprons, neckties, fans and pink epaulettes, and others too numerous to mention. The last figure was a conetti and serpentine battle, and the conetti fell around in a bewildering maze of color on the two sides ranged on opposite sides of a wire in the center of the hall. The favor table in pink with candles was presided over by Misses Elmer Murphy and Alice McCune, gowned in pink, assisted by Juliet Besuden. A buffet lunch was served in the balcony during the evening. After the cotillion dancing was indulged in until 12 o'clock.

MISS HOLLER NOT MARRIED.

Some unscrupulous person one week ago today imposed upon the Advocate by sending an extended notice to this paper reporting that Miss Emma Holler had been married to a young man of this city. Dates and names were given and the notice bore every evidence of good faith. Believing that the notice was a genuine account of a wedding, the report was published. Mr. O. W. Holler, father of the young lady, who lives on Rural Route No. 8 out of Newark, called at the office Saturday with Mrs. Holler and announced that the paper had been imposed upon. Miss Holler has not been married. It is hoped that the would be joker is satisfied now that he has brought embarrassment to an estimable young woman.

CIRCUIT COURT IS TO MEET TUESDAY

JUDGE C. W. SEWARD WILL ASSIGN CASES IN COMMON PLEAS MONDAY.

Hall Divorce Case—Temporary Alimony in Rutherford Suit—Today's Court House Notes.

Judge Seward Saturday morning called the docket for the April term of the Court of Common Pleas. Judge Seward will open court Monday morning for the purpose of making an assignment for the April term. Circuit court adjourned to meet on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Temporary Alimony Allowed.

In the case of Mary L. Rutherford vs. John W. Rutherford, action for divorce, heard upon a motion for pendente lite, the demurrer to the cross petition of the defendant, the plaintiff was awarded $100 as temporary alimony, and the demurrer was sustained and leave given to file an amended petition and answer within ten days.

Suit for Divorce.

George W. Hall by his attorney E. M. P. Brister, has commenced suit in the Probate court for divorce from his wife, Leona Hall. The parties were married March 26, 1904, and no children were born of the marriage. The plaintiff says that his wife has always, since her marriage with him, been more fond of the society and attentions of other men than a married woman should be; that she has flirted with other men in his presence. He also charges her with cruelty and gross neglect of duty, in that she abandoned him on the 16th of August, 1904, and has since remained away from him, and has refused to live with him. He also charges her with infidelity. He asks that he may be divorced from her and that she be barred from any right of dower in any real estate he may now or may hereafter own, or from any alimony in any property owned by him.

Transcripts Filed.

A transcript from the criminal docket of Justice of the Peace Lee S. Lake, in the case of the State of Ohio vs. Arthur Haslop, has been filed with the clerk of the court. Haslop was arrested on a warrant sworn out by Sadie E. Tariton, an unmarried woman of Mary Ann township on a paternity charge. He was bound over to the Court of Common Pleas in the sum of $400.

A transcript from the criminal docket of Mayor A. J. Crilly in the case of the State of Ohio vs. Frank Lahus, has been filed with the clerk of the court. Lahus was bound over to the Court of Common Pleas in the sum of $300 on the charge of shooting at Joseph D. Caldwell with intent to kill.

Asks for Jury Trial.

In the case of Lucy Wade vs. Geo. Johnson, in which the plaintiff brings suit in "Squire Lake's" court to recover a horse which she claims the defendant sold without having the right to do so, the defendant asked for a jury trial. The case was set for hearing Saturday, at 9 o'clock and all the witnesses, several of whom were subpoenaed from Coshocton county, were present when the attorney for the defense asked the court for a jury. This made it necessary to continue the case until April 17.

Natural Gas Case.

In the case of Smith B. Pratt and Carrie F. Pratt against the Newark Natural Gas and Fuel company, the plaintiffs have filed an amended petition. The plaintiffs claim that in November, 1901, they contracted with the defendant to receive and pay for gas which defendant was to furnish from November, 1901 to October 1, 1902, at a rate mutually agreed upon. Plaintiffs claim that on January 27, 1902, in very cold weather, while they were absent their gas was shut off to their damage in the sum of $1,010. G. C. Daugherty, attorney.

HAMPTON IS HERE TO FIGHT CASE

COLUMBUS BOND BUYER WHO WAS INDICTED LAST JANUARY,

Voluntarily Appears in Common Pleas Court and Furnishes Bond in Sum of $500.

J. L. Hampton, the Columbus bond buyer representing Cincinnati and Cleveland firms, who was indicted by the Licking county grand jury last January on the charge of offering a bribe to Councilman Joseph R. Moser, appeared in Newark with his son Saturday afternoon and in company with his attorney, Edward Kibler, appeared at the court house and gave bond in the sum of $500.

When Hampton appeared before Judge Seward, the court fixed his bond at $500 and the same was at once provided. Mr. Kibler speaking for his client, said that Hampton is not guilty of the charge and that he will fight the case.

No time has been set for the trial, but the defendant said he would appear when notified to do so.

BESSER DENIES

That He Owes Thos. W. Montgomery a Cent—Statement Made by the Insurance Agent.

Mr. L. T. Besser, who has been in the city and vicinity for some time soliciting insurance business, is indignant at the allegations made by Mr. Thomas W. Montgomery.

"My attention has just been directed to the publication in the Newark papers," said Mr. Besser Saturday afternoon, "of charges made by Mr. Montgomery that I am 'short' to the extent of $100, but that he has kindly consented to file no affidavit if I pay the bill promptly. I want to say right here that I don't owe Mr. Montgomery or any other person a dollar.

"I came to Newark some time ago, and was associated with Mr. Montgomery—not employed by him, mind you, in the insurance business. I am employed by the home office as a general agent and came here to work with Mr. Montgomery, not for him. I found that it was more profitable to work alone rather than be associated with him, and now he claims part of the commissions I have myself earned.

"At no time have I been more than 40 miles away from Newark, but I have just seen the articles reflecting upon me. I haven't tried to get away and am here in Newark if Mr. Montgomery wants to bring any charge against me. As to his insinuation that 'there's a woman in the case' I will say that I am unmarried and have a right to call upon a young woman if I have a desire to do so.

"Please make an emphatic statement for me that I am not indebted to Montgomery or the company. I am doing business on the square and am ready to meet, face to face, any claim that is made against me."

The logs turned under Foster and he was crushed to death almost instantly.

IMPROVEMENTS TO BE DEFERRED
TILL AFTER COMMENCEMENT.

Interior of Theatre is to be Decorated in Same Style With a New Steel Ceiling.

The regular meeting of the trustees of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Memorial building was held Friday evening, Messrs H. C. Bostwick, Geo. A. Ball, Edward Kibler, J. F. Harshorn, Dan. L. Jones and Judge Reese being present. The most important matter before the board was deciding on the new ceiling which will be placed in the Auditorium and the color scheme for the decorations. It was decided to decorate the ceiling and side walls in the same colors as they now are.

Bids were received from Bailey & Koeley and the Wheeling Corrugating company for the construction of the ceiling which will be placed over the main ceiling and on the balcony.

Bids for the decorating will be received until the next meeting which will be held on Friday evening, April 21, when action will be taken on them.

The fact that the trustees intended doing this work during the summer months has caused the faculties of the High school and St. Francis de Sales schools much uneasiness for fear they would be unable to hold the school commencements there, but this the board has generously decided to do, not starting the improvements until the 15th of June, which gives the time for both commencements. During the week ending June 10th.

Prof. J. D. Simkins and the Rev. Fr. B. M. O'Boylan were both seen Friday evening and said they thought the dates could be arranged for the week before the 17th as heretofore intended.

SLEEK SWINDLER IS JAILED.

Young Man Who Tried to Work Prof. S. L. Beeney in This City Lands Behind Bars in New York--Story Of the Way He Operated.

On the fourth of last January, a most noted swindler struck Newark, and late in the afternoon called upon Prof. S. L. Beeney, representing that he was a son of a wealthy ranch owner of Stockton, California, and that his purpose in coming east was to secure a business education. He came here for the express purpose of taking a course, was not particular as to cost, and in the way of a room and board wished the best to be had in Newark.

He stated that while riding in a Pullman between Denver and Chicago, his valise containing his gold watch and chain, drafts payable to his order, etc., were stolen, and that he was penniless. However, his father would soon replenish him when he heard of his misfortune. All he had to do was to draw a sight draft on his wealthy father providing he could get Prof. Beeney to endorse for him and in a few days the much needed shakedown would be forthcoming. The Professor was soon onto his draft racket, and so put himself off by telling him to call the next morning. Failing in his purpose with the draft racket, he went away, but after supper again called on Prof. Beeney to ratify his intention to enter the college the next morning. He then pleaded for $10 to pay for laundry and incidentals until he could arrange for a draft on his father.

It is needless to say that his story made no impression on the Professor, who at this juncture was quite sure that he was an imposter of the deepest dye. He claimed to be a Canadian, was rather tall and slender with a dark complexion and a foreign brogue. He stopped his board bill at the Hotel Warden. The private schools have been his favorite victims all over the United States. How many college professors have succumbed to his scheme is not known, but some have. So far as known he spent but one night in Newark, after finding his little game blocked. He gave his name as Harry B. Foreman, but it is now known that he has victimized many schools under different aliases. He succeeded in extracting money from the Federation in Chicago, holiday week, by representing to them that he was on his way from San Diego, Calif., to their institution there. The young man has just landed behind prison bars in New York, having arranged for courses at two institutions there, and in the evening plundered his boarding house, but was caught, and on being searched it was found that he had nearly all the missing articles on his person. He has been arrested frequently, and as often imprisoned, but has not ceased his efforts as a swindler. It is needless to say that he struck a mighty poor place for his operations in Newark, but there are several schools in Ohio that are known to be his victims. Let Newark give all such scoundrels a wide berth. Prof. Beeney is to be congratulated in blocking his little game here while neighboring cities have not fared so well, because of the rascal's seeming earnestness in trying to win the sympathy of his victims.

There is expressed in Russian official circles that Oyama's armies are engaged in a great forward movement with widely extended wings, the whole body forming a great crescent, threatening to enfold the army of Linievitch, which may have to withdraw. It would not be strange if this should prove to be the case. There can be little doubt that the Japanese are much superior in force, and that they have been following out as comprehensive a plan against Linievitch as they pursued twice with success against Kuro-patkin, at Liao-Yang and Mukden. They are tireless and indefatigable, and it may be safely presumed that they are using the period of apparent quiet to perfect arrangements for a campaign which may be a final one in Manchuria.

MAYOR ELECT DUNNE

Predicts That Municipal Ownership Will be the Leading Question in the Big Cities.

Mayor-elect Dunne of Chicago, in an interview at Cleveland, while en route to New York, said, in discussing the municipal ownership victory in Chicago: "It is my firm conviction that the question of municipal ownership will at once be the leading question in all the larger municipalities of the country. And I will also make another prediction. As sure as the sun rises, one of the leading planks in the next platform adopted by the National Democratic convention will be an unqualified and ringing declaration for the government ownership of steam railways. Remember what I tell you, it is coming as sure as time."

General Pettys of the U. S. V., writes: "It affords me pleasure to say that some of my patients who have used Peru-na as a tonic and also for catarrhal troubles, have been greatly benefited by the same. I am satisfied of the excellence of the same."—Charles Pettys.

General Legg of Washington, D. C., writes: "I take pleasure in endorsing the many recommendations I have heard and read of Peru-na, because of having had knowledge of the truth of so many of them.

"We always tell our sick and ailing friends of the remedies that we have learned, from experience, were good for us when ailing in the same way, and we do it as a duty we feel that we owe them.

"Why is it any the less our duty to advise all the people we can when we know of a good and comparatively inexpensive remedy that makes many cures, and benefits in almost all cases?"

"My own little personal experience of being relieved of deafness, caused by a siege of catarrh, warrants me in advising all the afflicted to just try Peru-na."—A. M. Legg.

Col. Shatswell of Washington, D. C., writes: "I commend Peru-na as a most agreeable as well as effective medicine. Catarrh and catarrhal colds are checked and generally cured by a judicious use of it. It is a good promoter of digestion and is an excellent remedy for a weak stomach. It tones up the appetite and is not at all disagreeable to take."—Nathaniel Shatswell.

Captain Jackson of Washington, D. C., writes: "I am eighty-three years old, a veteran of the Black Hawk, Mexican and Civil Wars. Some years ago I was seriously affected with catarrh of the stomach. After the use of three bottles of Peru-na every appearance of my complaint was removed."

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peru-na, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

DR. W. R. HARPER OF CHICAGO UNIVERSITY IS MEMBER OF AN INTERESTING FAMILY

Pres. W. R. Harper Prof. Frank Harper Mrs. Samuel Harper Prof. James Harper Mrs. Mamie Douglas

The above is a splendid picture of the Harper family of New Concord, to the several members of which success has come in an unusual degree. The father, Samuel Harper, was formerly a merchant of New Concord. He is now living a retired life. Mr. and Mrs. Harper live alternately at the homes of their daughter, Mrs. Gordon Douglas of Pittsburg, and of their son, President W. R. Harper of Chicago, and at the old family home in New Concord.

Nearly everybody is familiar with the career and achievements of President W. R. Harper of the great Chicago university. Dr. Harper, who several years ago was at the head of the preparatory department of Denison university at Granville, is now suffering from a cancerous affection of the bowels and is the guest of John D. Rockefeller at the latter's home near

New York city, where he is taking an X-ray treatment in the hope of effecting a cure.

Professor Frank Harper and Dr. James Harper are also connected with the Chicago university. Professor Frank Harper spends much of his time abroad. He is in the first rank among the highly educated men of the United States.

Dr. James Harper is a member of the faculty of the medical department of the Chicago university.

Mrs. Mamie Douglas is the wife of a prominent Pittsburg banker.

The above picture is from a photograph which was taken at the family home in New Concord last summer. The members of the family are in the habit of congregating there for a short stay in the summer months. The visits serve as a summer vacation and as a family reunion. The children of

RAILWAY RUMBLES

ROAD TO BE BUILT TO WHEELING FROM CONNELLSVILLE.

B. & O. Preparing to Award a Big Contract—Local and General Railway News of a Day.

Pittsburg, April 8.—It is learned from authentic sources that the project to build a railroad from Conneltsville to Wheeling, which has been a matter of no little interest in railroad circles for some time, will be taken up this year, and the proposed line will be completed as quickly as possible. The B. & O. railroad is said to be the promoter of the enterprise, although other reports have associated the name of H. G. Frick of this city, and J. V. Thompson, of Uniontown, with the deal. From persons in a position to know it was learned yesterday that the real promoter is the B. & O. railroad company, the latter interest desiring the new road for a short cut for freight from Conneltsville to Wheeling.

This project is not a new one. Such a line has been talked of for some years, and various times surveys have been made and all arrangements completed for putting the construction work under way, but in every instance the work has been abandoned.

With the completion of this line the B. & O. will have a more direct route for through freight between Conneltsville and Wheeling, relieving to a material extent the present main line of the B. & O. between this city and Conneltsville.

The tremendous growth of freight traffic in the Conneltsville region and the development of coal fields in the West Virginia section compels the B. & O. to get an additional outlet for this tonnage. On account of the enormous amount of business handled it is almost impossible to bring it via Pittsburg, as is now the case. The proposed line will obviate these difficulties to a marked degree.

Preparing to Award Big Contract.
Baltimore, April 8.—The B. & O. railroad company is about to award its $13,000,000 contract for 10,000 cars and 275 engines and other equipment. Among the men here looking after the contract is James B. Brady, representative of the Standard Steel Car Company of Butler, Pa.

New Pan Handle Work.
Contracts amounting to nearly $500,000 will be awarded within a few days by the engineering department of the Pennsylvania lines west for improvement work on the Pittsburg division of the Pan Handle. This will mark the initial step of the Pan Handle towards taking up the various improvements outlined for the coming year, and as soon as the award has been made and work put under way, attention will be paid to a number of other projects which are intended for completion in 1905, representing an outlay of several million dollars. The schedule of new work for the Pan Handle has not been

COMFORTING WORDS.

Many a Newark Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders; is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Newark readers.

G. W. Harter, living at Thornville, R. F. D. No. 5, well known in Newark, C. N. says: "For several years I suffered with a complication of kidney, rheumatic and urinary troubles, and physicians could not help me. In spite of all the medicine I used I grew continually worse. My back became so weak I could scarcely get about and there was a constant dull heavy aching in the small of the back, varied with occasional sharp shooting twinges like knife thrusts that I would never be able to get rid of the trouble but in talking about my case with Mr. Crayton, the Newark druggist, he advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills saying he had known of many of his customers who had used Doan's Kidney Pills for the same troubles and had found great relief. I got a box from him, went home and began using them. To make a long story short, they cured me and the cure has been a permanent one. I have had no more backache, my back is strong, the kidney secretions are regular and normal, and I attribute my present good health to the use of Doan's Kidney Pills."

SURPRISE TESTS

For Enginemen—Queen & Crescent Has Inaugurated New System of Examinations.

The Queen & Crescent is putting its enginemen and trainmen through severe tests in the interests of safer, better and more expeditious service. The management has quietly put into effect a system of "surprise tests," which are calculated to awaken engineers to their responsibilities.

In a circular letter addressed to engineers previous to the inauguration of the "surprise tests," the enginemen were advised to follow printed rules to the letter, and not to rely on "customary practice" in cases of doubt.

The circular was headed "Eternal Vigilance is the Price of Safety." The company started in on its secret tests. Enginemen never knew when a red light would be turned against them or when they would be placed in a position to choose between their own discretion and the letter of printed rules.

The campaign of "surprise tests" not only included the use of semaphore signals, but whistle signals of all sorts, placing of rear-end flags, torpedo tests, burning fuse tests and all kinds of safety signals.

The time and places of the tests were kept secret. Enginemen and trainmen did not know when a trainmaster, a road foreman, a superintendent or train rule examiner was standing behind the plate of a red light or in the shadow of a section house.

A train rule examiner is a new feature. The Queen & Crescent has appointed one for every division. The manner in which their duties are arranged is illustrated in the case of an engineer who unwisely followed what he thought was "customary practice" instead of plainly printed rules. When this engineer failed in the surprise test he was notified to appear before the train rule examiner. The latter subjected him to a rigid examination on his knowledge of the rules.

The enginemen passed a high average and the record was certified to the superintendent. The latter looked it over, saw that the enginemen could quote the rules correctly, and, therefore, was correct in assuming that the enginemen's failure at the "surprise test" was entirely due to carelessness.

It became the duty of the superintendent to decide what disciplinary measures were necessary.

Since the "surprise tests" were inaugurated the discipline of the enginemen has greatly improved. General Manager W. A. Garrett said yesterday he was much gratified by results.

In order to ineffably impress upon every enginemen the fact that speed is not the first consideration the management of the company has given orders that the words, "Safety Before Speed" shall be stenciled in bright letters in the cab of every locomotive where the eyes of the enginemen will constantly see them.

A feature of the new system is placing every enginemen on record as to his views. When the original circulars were sent out, enginemen were asked to write their views as to whether they thought that the record of a certain Chicago line could be equaled. This record showed 590 "surprise tests" in one month without a single failure on the part of the enginemen subjected to the sudden surprise. In every case the Q & C enginemen expressed the belief that they could reach that record, and now the company is holding them to this view.

An official of the company said yesterday that the percentage of failures in the last month's tests was very small and that the system of checking the men unexpectedly and under conditions which arise daily was having a beneficial effect.

UTICA COMPANY

Will Install Thirty-Six Blower Tank This Summer—Company is in Fine Condition.

(Utica News-Herald.)

The Central Window Glass company has ample capital offered it to install a 36 blower tank this summer and will soon issue additional stock to cover the sum to be put in. Some of the stockholders disliked the idea of a large block of stock going into the hands of one or two persons, on account of tending to give a controlling interest, and they therefore offered to sell their holdings. The stock was promptly bought by the others of the company. The price is said to have been 110. Fourteen persons sold. The Central has been having a good run lately, with good orders, and the owners are pleased with prospects.

The Utica Gas, Oil and Mining company directors have passed a resolution to offer 250 additional shares of stock to the public.

The Utica Glass company is having a remarkably successful run this year.

It is said that a small block of stock changed hands a few days ago at 165.

NO SUNDAY GAMES.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 8.—A committee headed by Eli Ritter, of the Good Citizens' League which called on Mayor Holtzman yesterday afternoon, was informed by him that no Sunday ball games will be permitted in Indianapolis if a fee is charged. Semi-professional teams have engaged the West Washington street league grounds, and have announced that Sunday games will be played, but instead of charging a regular admission fee score cards will be sold. Mayor Holtzman stated, however, that if it is necessary to buy a score card to get into the grounds, the games will not be permitted.

Wrestler Taken into Custody at Columbus After Throwing Three Men—Lives in Newark.

Columbus, O., April 8.—I am a triumph on the wrestling mat to a cell in the police station was the run of luck which came to William Tonneman last night.

Tonneman came to Columbus a month ago and announced that he was from Chicago. Newark is his home.

It seems that he has a family there. Anyhow, he was taken in last night by Detective Beard and Glenn on the strength of a Newark warrant which charges him with nonsupport.

Tonneman made short work of the men who met him on the mat at the Riverside A. C. opening. He threw Sam Lockhard in 33 seconds and repeated it in 16 seconds.

Big Jim Watts was put down in 8 minutes and then in 5. Tonneman afterward boxed two rounds with Watts and then was taken quietly away by the "fly couple."

There was some fairly good boxing on display. O'Neill and Randolph, Cullen and Meredith and Jarvey and Binks appeared in bouts of three rounds each.

SEASON ALMOST HERE.

Manager Shodgrass is now ready for the players who have signed idlewille contracts to report for duty. Saturday a large shipment of supplies, home plate, bags, bats, masks, mits and gloves arrived, consigned to the baseball company. It is but twelve days now until the players report and then only ten days more until the season opens here with Mt. Vernon.

Terry McGovern III.

St. Paul, Minn., April 8.—Terry McGovern, former featherweight champion pugilist of the world, who is now playing a theatrical engagement here, is said to be on the verge of a nervous breakdown as a result of overwork, excitement and constant traveling in connection with his present engagement. It is announced that he has decided to follow the advice of his physician and take a long rest.

JURY PLACES BLAME

Four Mine Operators Charged With Criminal Negligence in Virginia Mine Disaster.

Birmingham, Ala., April 8.—The coroner's jury which has been investigating the Virginia mine disaster, in which 111 persons lost their lives, returned a verdict which charges four mine operators with willful and criminal negligence. The jury returned a separate verdict in the case of each man killed in the mine, which sets forth that the deceased came to his death by an explosion in the Virginia mines in Jefferson county, Ala.; said explosion was a dust explosion caused by the collection of dust that was allowed to accumulate in said mines of Alabama Steel and Wire company and their agents, although the state mine inspector and his assistants had repeatedly warned them of the dangerous condition of the mines for over a year prior to the explosion, and that the said victim came to his death by the willful and criminal negligence of Everett T. Schuler, George E. Schuler, Amos W. Reed and Sam Hartly, operators, managers and mine foremen of said mine.

SHIVERED

For Hours in the Cold to Become Member of the Sorority—Milwaukee Judge's Daughter.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 8.—For three hours Miss Gladys Williams, daughter of Judge Williams, stood guard over the George Washington monument, on Grand avenue, defying the cold weather and the curious glances of a jeering crowd which gathered about to watch her undergo a sorority initiation. Not until Patrolman John Kiley interferred and ordered the girl off the monument did she go home. She will become a full-fledged member of Chi Tau Omega sorority today.

Miss Williams is a student at the West Side High school, and early yesterday afternoon took her position on the stone steps of the monument. At first the young woman did not attract attention, but later, when the crowds on the street saw her shivering from the cold winds, they wondered why she was inside the iron rail. Then crowds of boys gathered and began jeering her, and finally the crowds swelled into hundreds. Still Miss Williams would not move. She blushed under the curious gaze of the spectators, but held her ground. Then Patrolman John Kiley came along.

"What are you doing here? Don't you know it's against the rules to be where you are?"

"I'm just waiting," said the young woman blushing.

"For whom?" asked Kiley.

"For sorority girls. You see, I'm being initiated."

"Initiated? Well, you had better go home."

"Not until the girls come."

"Who are you and where do you live?"

"I'm Judge Williams's daughter."

"Well, it don't make any difference if you are the Judge's daughter, you'll come down from there and go home or I'll have to run you in."

"I think you might leave me alone."

"Alone nothing. Now trot home or I'll call the Judge."

Miss Williams decided to go. Kiley walked down the street grumbling about the fool tricks of sororities.

INDIANS SULLEN

Because of Vain Efforts of Game Wardens to Drive Them Back to the Reservation.

Hayden, Colo., April 8.—Indians in the White river country, where President Roosevelt will hunt, are reported to be sullen and ugly because of the vain efforts of the game wardens to drive them back to the Uintah reservation. This news was brought in by trappers who have spent the entire winter in the White river region. The Apaches, the trappers say, are slaughtering deer ruthlessly and pay no attention to the perfunctory warnings of the game wardens, who have no means of enforcing their commands. President Roosevelt, if he makes an extended stay, will hardly fail to encounter some of the bands of angry Indians. They have heard that the "Great White Father" is coming, and some of the redskins have announced their intention of holding a powwow with him.

Drink the Cause of More Crime In Our City

Another horrible tragedy in our midst, causing much excitement and bitter feeling, goes down a long line of crime in this country resulting from excessive use of liquor. The liquor habit is universally recognized by physicians as a disease. It can be cured by Orin.

This meritorious cure is the result of over ten years' scientific research by a Washington chemist. It has been tested by physicians who pronounce it wonderful. We have made arrangements with the laboratories of the Orin Company, Inc., of Washington, D. C., to furnish Orin to people who are desirous of being freed from this horrible disease caused by the excessive use of whiskey, beer or other alcoholic stimulants. Orin No. 1 (in powder form) can be given secretly in tea, coffee or food without the patient's knowledge. Orin No. 2 (in pill form) is for those who desire to be free from the craving for alcoholic stimulants. We sell Orin at $1 per package, and the company guarantees to cure the craving or refund every cent paid for it. We do not hesitate to recommend it to you. F. D. TWO SHOTS

That Killed the Suitor for His Daughter's Hand Was McCartney's Answer to Woeing.

London, O., April 8.—Because Earl Richmond, a well known and popular young man of this city, insisted that he would continue to pay attention to the daughter of Jacob H. McCartney, he was shot and killed here last evening. McCartney was arrested and is held in the county jail on the charge of murder.

According to eye witnesses McCartney and Richmond met in front of the Second street police station. There were a few words passed between them on the subject of the latter "keeping company" with the former's daughter. Richmond declared that he would continue to do so, and it is said that McCartney thereupon drew a revolver and shot the younger man twice. Richmond fell backwards into the arms of Officer Golden, who was attracted by the shots. On a bullet struck the carotid or main artery, and death ensued in a few minutes from the loss of blood. Richmond did not speak after being shot. McCartney was immediately taken into custody, disarmed of the smoking weapon and placed in a cell in the station house. Later it was decided to transfer him to the county jail.

A large crowd congregated at the scene of the shooting, but offered no violence as he was marched along by Sheriff Wilson and two policemen. Owing to the prominence of the parties the tragic affair has created a decided sensation. Coroner Carl took charge of the body and will hold an inquest.

Richmond was 25 years of age, and worked as a rural mail carrier. He was the only support of his widowed mother, with whom he resided.

McCartney was formerly deputy auditor of Madison county, and for several years a well to do coal merchant here.

Y. M. C. A. ELECTION

BOARD AUTHORIZES MR. PINNEO TO ORGANIZE A BOYS' CAMP IN JUNE.

Gymnastic Exhibition to be Given Soon—Subscribers to Building Fund Requested to Pay.

At the regular meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Y. M. C. A. last night reports were submitted on the various departments of the Association's work for the past year, showing a splendid growth. These reports will be incorporated in the president's annual report to be submitted to the annual meeting next Tuesday evening.

By a vote of the board it was decided to open the polls for the election of trustees at 4 o'clock next Tuesday afternoon and keep them open until 7:30 the hour of the annual meeting. This will give ample opportunity for all active members of the association to vote.

Seven trustees are to be elected, six for the full term of three years, and one to fill the unexpired term of Benjamin Franklin, deceased.

Another matter which will interest many, especially the parents of the boys of the Junior department, is that the board has authorized a boys' camp to be held in June, and instructed Mr. Pinneo to spare no pains or efforts to make it a large and successful camp.

A gymnastic exhibition will be given in the near future for the benefit of the camp. Full particulars regarding the time and place of the camp and the cost per boy will be issued to the parents in a few days.

The treasurer of the building fund reported very satisfactorily on the collection of subscriptions. A payment will be made at once on the building debt.

If those subscribers who have not made their first payments yet could do so in the next few days they could be included in this payment on the bonds and the indebtedness be reduced that much more.

Newark Wrestler is Arrested on Com-

Ted Tonneman, the former Newark wrestler who was arrested Friday night in Columbus at the close of a wrestling match in which Tonneman threw several opponents, was brought to Newark at noon Saturday by Special Constable R. E. Forgraves. He was taken before Squire Atcherley, who set the time of hearing at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. In default of bail, Tonneman was sent to the county jail.

When Constable Forgraves took charge of the prisoner, Tonneman informed the officer that he expected to embrace any opportunity that offered itself to escape. The officer foiled Tonneman's intention by handcuffing himself to the prisoner.

To the court Tonneman stated that he was afraid of his mother-in-law, who, he claims, threatened to do him harm. Tonneman has a wife and one small child only a few weeks old. His wife is the complaining witness in the case.

27 W. Main St., Newark, O.

AT THE THEATERS

The sale of seats for the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra opens on Monday at the box office.

EMINENT LEADER

Of Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra That Will be at the Auditorium Next Thursday Night.

Since the excellence of the orchestra depends to such a great extent upon the conductor, the music lovers of Newark will be interested in the personality of Mr. Frank van der Stucken, the eminent conductor of the Cincinnati Symphony orchestra which will give a concert in the Auditorium on April 13.

Mr. van der Stucken is yet a man in the early prime of life, and besides being a man of fire and ambition, is bursting full of musical talents. One may say talents advisedly, for indeed Mr. van der Stucken is a most versatile man, scholar, litterateur, composer and conductor. He directs with matchless skill the singing of choral bodies, and is a consummate orchestral conductor, besides being a composer of the highest rank. Mr. van der Stucken has one of the most distinct and attractive personalities in American musical life. As a drill master he is a wonderful disciplinarian. He puts his whole soul into the rehearsal, and rightly expects every man in the orchestra to do the same. And he who dotes on slipshod rehearsal and thinks that any kind of a "scratch performance" is good enough for the "dear raw American public" has no place under Mr. van der Stucken's baton. Mr. van der Stucken is particularly successful in interpreting the most advanced moderns, and indeed this may be said to be his forte. In interpreting the works of Franz Liszt Mr. van der Stucken seems to shine with overpowering glory, and in fact those who have not heard him do the rhapsodies or the symphonic poems of Liszt do not realize what is in them. The chief trait of Mr. van der Stucken's interpretation of music for the orchestra is passion and vivacity, hence he is equally good in the works of the Belgian and new French composers.

THE SHOW GIRL:

B. C. Whitney's magnificent production of "The Show Girl," laden with humor and wearing the mystic cap, which R. A. Barnett designed for her when the Boston Cadets brought her out, will smile upon the amusement seekers of this city at the Auditorium on April 17. "The Show Girl" has received careful attention and money has been expended without stint on costumes and scenery. A chorus, containing thirty singing and dancing girls, dazzling as to beauty and dexterity arrayed, has been provided, and a cast of principals, said to be better than any Mr. Whitney so far selected. The leading comedienne with this attraction is Miss Stella Mayhew.

DAVID HARUM.

David Harum is to be presented to the Auditorium theatre goes in the near future.

"WHO GOES THERE?"

Walter E. Perkins in "Who Goes There?" fresh from his successful run at the Princess Theatre in New York, where he went after being here in January, is coming back to the Auditorium Saturday evening, April 15. New York theatre goes, hungry for a good laugh, found in "Who Goes There?" a liberal supply to their wants. It was moreover praised for the clean quality of fun it possessed. On its return "Who Goes There?" will be presented with a company three times the size of the one seen here before. This comes from the fact that "Who Goes There?" is now enlivened with musical specialties, songs and dances and stirring chorus numbers. It requires forty peep to produce these effects in melody and the result is that "Who Goes There?" is not only a musical farce, but a rare one. Since it contains a plot of sustained interest and wholesome fun. A feature of the engagement here will be the presence of Miss Evelyn Francis of this city in an important role with pretty songs.

GREAT SOUTHERN THEATRE.

Another big week of good things theatrically is scheduled for next week. On Monday and Tuesday evenings, "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," and it is pleasant news to the countless play goers who have already enjoyed the quaint characters of Mrs. Wiggs, Lover Mary, Miss Hazy, Mr. Stubbins, Little Tommy, the little Wiggins, Cuby and all the oddly interesting figures of the Cabbage Patch, in the original pages of Mrs. Alice Hogan Rice's two famous stories, to learn that they are soon to be seen on the stage here. The dramatization which Mrs. Anne Crawford Flexner has made of these delightful stories is interpreted by a capable cast that includes that distinguished character comedienne, Mrs. Madge Carr Cook (mother of Eleanor Robinson) and Leslie Barriscale and Helen Lowell, and William T. Hodges, of "Sax Harbor" fame, together with more than a score of other characters.

On Wednesday, April 12, the new comedy opera, "The Girl and the Band," will be the offering with a strong company headed by Walter Jones, Viola G. Deane, Joseph Miron, Mable Hine, Alice Davis, Neil McN. etc.

On Friday and Saturday, and Saturday matinee the stupendous production "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast" the Great Dumb Lane spectacle with its magnificent band of the Four Seasons, April 15. Enchanted Palace, are excursions to theatre go ers. The success of "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast" remains as great as ever. It is a treat to laugh at the capital work of the comedians, to listen to the sweet singing of the pretty girls, and to admire the evolutions of the armies of dancers.

"The Labor Gazette, devoted to the interest of organized labor, made its debut the latter part of September, 1903. J. H. McCloskey & Company, publishers. Size of paper eight pages 40 columns."

"Following are a few miscellaneous publications:

"Licking County Monthly, made its appearance in April, 1885. It was non-partisan. Its columns were devoted to the business interest of the county."

"Business College Journal." Published by Newark Business and Normal School. G. W. Allison, principal. Issued in the spring of 1886. It was a small, four-page 12-column periodical."

"Fruitman and Farmers' Guide," a monthly journal, devoted to the orchard, farm and garden. Date of publication, July, 1888. R. C. Woodworth, editor and publisher. Size of paper, eight pages 32 columns.

"Semi-Weekly Republican. A journal devoted to the interest of the Republican party. Date of publication, June 16, 1891. M. P. Smith, editor and proprietor. Size of paper, four pages 32 columns."

"I have made no note of several religious periodicals that have made their appearance recently. Following are a list of daily papers:

"The Newark Evening Journal was the first daily paper printed in Newark. Copy on file shows date of October 9, 1876. Vol. I, No. 19. It was published every evening by Huff & Remington, in the First National Bank building. C. W. Remington was sole proprietor. It was a bright, lively, non-partisan journal, devoted to the local and general news of the day. Size of paper, four pages 20 columns."

"The Newark Morning News was the second daily started in Newark. It made its debut in June, 1880. It advocated Democratic doctrine, and was published by Chas. F. Dutcher. Same size as The Newark Evening Journal."

"The Newark Evening News was the next daily issued. We have no means of knowing the exact date when it first started, but the copy on file shows date of April 12, 1881. It was also a four-page 20-column paper. Patton & Koehner were the proprietors and publishers. Later on Mr. Patton sold his interest in the paper and Mr. Koehner continued its publication and enlarged it to a four-page 24-column paper."

"The Daily Advocate made its first appearance March 20, 1882. Under its heading was the following motto: 'Devoted to the dissemination of the principles of the Democratic party, and the promotion of the interests of Newark city and Licking county.' J. A. Caldwell was then proprietor, and J. H. Newton, editor. The following year, 1883, Mr. Caldwell severed his connection with The Advocate, and The Advocate Printing Company was organized, and has since been publishers of The Advocate."

"Daily Evening Star. F. Koehner, proprietor, publisher and proprietor. Date of copy on file, July 14, 1883. With this issue the publisher announces that he will discontinue the publication of the daily so that he will be enabled to devote more time to his weeklies, the Newark Express and Weekly Star."

"The Newark Daily American" made its first appearance in the latter part of September, 1884. On February 28, 1887, Messrs. Lyon & Ickes started a daily in connection with their weekly, and named it The Newark Daily American. They continued its publication for a number of years."

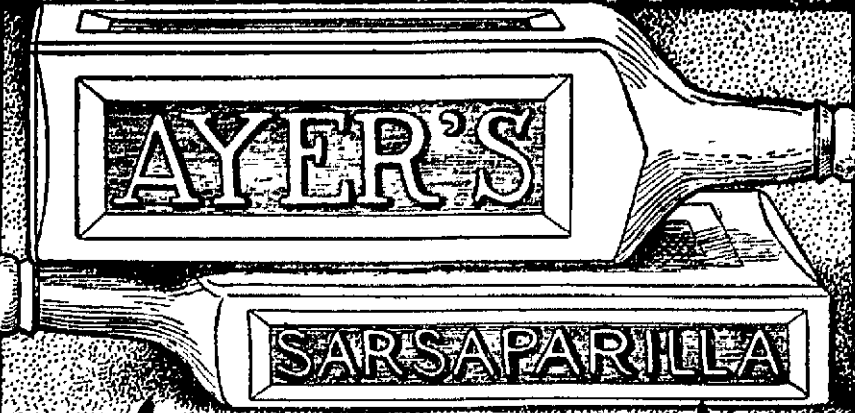

"The Daily Roller. Issued during the roller skating craze in 1885. Burton & Manns, proprietors. A small, four-page 12-column sheet."

"The Daily Tribune made its debut September, 1891. Issued by The Tribune Publishing Company. A. B. Clark, editor. It changed hands several times until about the year 1897, when The Newark Daily American consolidated with The Daily Tribune, and was then called The Daily American-Tribune. The following year, 1898, it went into the hands of a receiver, and Mr. T. O. Donovan continued its publication. In 1899 it drifted into the hands of the present owner, Addison C. Dickinson, who has successfully managed the paper ever since. It is now called The Newark American-Tribune. A semi-weekly is also issued in connection with the daily."

"The Newark Daily Sun was started along about July, 1896, by E. M. P. Brister, in connection with the weekly, and discontinued in 1898. It will thus be seen that of the forty odd newspapers and publications commenced in Newark since 1820—eighty-five years ago—only three survive—the others have gone to the newspaper graveyard."

Don't Neglect Yourself.

1408 Second Street, LOUISVILLE, KY., April 14, 1905.

I have been weak and sickly for the past four years, caused by irregularity and carelessness regarding the laws of health, but about five months ago my condition became very serious. I had severe backache and suffered a constant dull pain in my head. I spent weary, painful days, and miserable, restless nights. The doctor told me that I must have patience.

His medicine did not, however, give me even temporary relief and as I had been told of the curative qualities of Wine of Cardui I decided to try it.

I found that it relieved me of pain. As my general health improved my other troubles were gradually diminished and after five weeks' use of the Wine of Cardui I was once more a well and happy woman.

Res. L. M. Thompson, Director, BEETHOVEN MUSICAL SOCIETY.

WINE OF CARDUI

Wine of Cardui regulates the menstrual flow, banishes headaches, backaches and bearing-down pains. Severe headaches, bearing-down pains, indigestion, loss of appetite and nervousness are symptoms of female weakness and should be given prompt attention. If you are troubled with menstrual irregularities do not let them run on. They will certainly grow into dangerous and chronic troubles. Get a bottle of Wine of Cardui and begin treatment at once.

A member of the British Parliament has announced that he intends to introduce a bill making radical alteration of the procedure in divorce cases. SELECTIONS

REVIEWING A BOOK.

The Strenuousness and Naps of the Famous "Tay Pay."

The ways of book reviewers are often as mysterious as those of the heathen Chinese. Tom Hood's plan was to cut the leaves and smell the paper knife. Mr. T. P. O'Connor, who introduced a new feature in journalism in "The Book of the Week," is an artist in the result he attains and a ruthless destroyer in attaining the result. He will only review the best and most valuable books. He cuts the pages into ribbons and stuffs them with a paper knife, but with a pencil, his finger, or, possibly, a polisher—whatever comes handiest.

When he is finished the book is of no value except as a reminiscence. He reads with feverish haste and often sees facts before he reads them. He scores passages with blue pencil for one purpose, with red for another and black indiscriminately. He dog ears one page at the top, another at the bottom, sometimes folds a whole page double and sometimes into an ugly parcel of two or three folds. He will glance at a beautiful engraving in the book and scribble his comments of character over the face of a duchess or a statesman.

The book gutted, he sits down to his typewriter and writes out his review. This is a series of interjections, 100 pages of a book boiled down to 100 words, and yet all intelligent. A sheet of his typewritten manuscript is a wonder to behold. If you ever get a pen written letter from T. P., I should suggest you take it to a chemist. Whatever complaint you are suffering from he will make you up a prescription that will kill or cure you. No one else can read it. On his typewriting machine T. P. rattles over the letters of the alphabet without a stop or space or punctuation mark. The page is just a mass of letters. A secretary then draws a line between each word, and T. P. reads it over to see what he has written.—Pearson's London Weekly.

How Trifles Count.

Some interesting statistics have been compiled showing how trifling articles count up in a year on the Santa Fe system. In the 400 stations between Chicago and the Pacific coast are slot machines containing gum. Into these machines last year were dropped 1,150,000 pennies for gum, the sum being $11,500. The pins used by officials and employees of the Santa Fe system last year weighed 3,000 pounds. To keep the depots and offices clean 26,000 brooms were used. The lead pencils used, if placed end to end, would make a line over 325 miles long. Fifty barrels of ink and 400,000 pens were used. From what is known as the "scrap heap" the company realized last year $1,250,000. This included almost everything, from a shingle nail to a worn-out locomotive. Over $5,000 was realized from the sale of waste paper alone.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Rockefeller's Millions.

A Wall street banker is credited with the statement that the fortune of John D. Rockefeller in a few years will amount to $1,000,000,000. There are many estimates current of Mr. Rockefeller's wealth, estimates hanging all the way from $400,000,000 to $600,000,000, but the Wall street authority adds that all estimates of the Rockefeller fortune have been too low. Years ago Mr. Gladstone was one of the guests at a dinner in England where the oldest member of the Vanderbilt family was also present. Somebody whispered to the English premier that the rich American had $100,000,000, and Mr. Gladstone commented after looking curiously at Mr. Vanderbilt, "Then I should say that he constitutes a peril to the American republic."

Italy's Young King.

The young Victor Emmanuel III. has been a revelation to his people. Long before King Humbert was cruelly assassinated reports were circulated that the heir to the throne was intellectually a weak man, a know nothing, and it was common talk that he would never be allowed by the Italians to reign over them. The unexpected happened, as it so often does. King Humbert was murdered on the 29th of July, 1900. His son assumed his rights without the slightest hint of trouble, and he has proved to be as intelligent, conscientious and judicious a sovereign as united Italy has had.—St. Nicholas.

Remarkable Badge.

The Society of Genealogical Research, recently organized in New York by Mrs. William Gerry Slacie, who founded the Daughters of 1812, has a remarkable badge, which it twenty-five members are wearing and which the seventy-five women on the waiting list are envious. The badge has the coat of arms of the United States of America at the top. Attached to it is a band of ribbon on which the name of one's first recorded ancestor is printed. Below it is the coat of arms of Great Britain.

Consto Corinne.

About the only person outside President Roosevelt's family who is bold enough to interrupt him when he is at work is his pretty niece, Miss Corinne Douglas Robinson. She is not the least bit afraid of Uncle Theodore, and the young Roosevelt has long ago learned the wisdom of letting her to interrupt him when they have been discussing any of the few but stupid topics laid down by the press and fiction. If Consto Corinne could but tell him off nobody could.

People Talked About

CHARLES E. TOWNSEND of Michigan awoke to find himself famous by reason of his name being attached to the most important bill passed by the house of representatives in the Fifty-eighth congress. The Townsend Esch bill for regulating railroad freight rates did not become a law because the United States senate balked at it, but it was the most discussed piece of proposed legislation that came up during the congressional session just closed. Mr. Townsend was serving his first term in the house, but he was placed upon the important committee on interstate and foreign commerce, and when the railroad rate question came up framed a bill on the subject. This was combined with a bill framed by a member from Wisconsin, Mr. Esch, and the resulting measure was reported to the house and passed by the extraordinary large vote of 226 to 17.

Mr. Townsend was re-elected to the Fifty-ninth congress. He is forty-eight years of age, was born on a farm near Jackson, Mich., and studied at Michigan university. He is married and for the past ten years has practiced law in Jackson.

"Tapa," said the son of Charles A. Edwards, secretary of the Democratic congressional committee, "why am I a Democrat?"

"Who wants to know?" asked Mr. Edwards suspiciously.

"The teacher," the boy replied.

"Well," said Mr. Edwards, "you tell the teacher you are a Democrat because you possess the God given faculty, after you have been rolled in the dust and kicked and cuffed, of rising and declaring to the world, 'Well, we lost this time, but we will win in 1908.'"

Senator Frederick T. Dubois of Idaho, who has been a prominent figure in the Smoot investigation and is an old time enemy of the Mormons, is one of four brothers, the others being William, Lincoln and Kilbourne, who as boys were nicknamed Will, Link and Kill. The names of the boys, placed according to the order of birth, read, "Will Link Kill Fred?" At last reports Fred had not been killed.

The senator is known as a joker. Last summer some one in Idaho gave his baby a dog. It was a mongrel, but the attachment between the child and the puppy was so great that the latter was brought on to Washington. One day the pup followed the senator to the capital.

"What kind of a dog is that, Dubois?" asked Senator Bailey.

"That? That's a fish bound," Senator Dubois told him. "Why, that's the finest breed of dogs we have in Idaho. Every morning that dog goes down to a trout stream and brings in a trout when we are in Idaho. He never fails."

"He must be a wonderful animal," agreed Senator Burrows.

"Wonderful doesn't half describe that dog," Senator Dubois continued. "Why, one morning we had no fish in the house, and what do you think that dog did? Why, he went out and brought in a can of sardines."

Senator Samuel Douglas McEnery of Louisiana, who, though a Democrat, declared himself a supporter of President Roosevelt's programme for regulating railroad rates, has been twice governor of Louisiana and also chief justice of the Louisiana supreme court.

He is a native of the state, was born in 1837, is a graduate of the United States Naval academy and in the civil war was a Confederate lieutenant under Magruder. He succeeded N. C. Blanchard in the senate in 1894 and was re-elected in 1902. Senator McEnery is very deaf. Recently a correspondent for a New Orleans paper sent his card in to him, and the senator came out into the lobby in response to it.

"Good afternoon," said the correspondent. "Is there any news today?"

"What's that?" asked McEnery, putting his hand to his ear.

"Have you any news?"

"Yes," said the senator. "I think I have just one." He reached into his pocket, took out a cigar, handed it to the amazed correspondent and stalked away. When the senator reached his seat he turned to Senator Perkins and said "What do you think of the news of that New Orleans correspondent? Why, he called me away from my work here to tell me to give him a cigar."

Senator George C. Perkins of California got his start in life through railway stampedes. He landed in the Golden State as a lad of twelve and for several years was employed in a grocery store. He managed to save up $800. One day he found the ferryboat which was operated across a neighboring stream stuck on a sand bar. The owner was disheartened and talked of selling out. "How much would you take for the boat as it lies?" inquired young Perkins.

"A thousand dollars and not a cent less," was the reply.

Perkins drew his gun out of the public school and borrowing $500 more, and before sundown the ferryboat was his. He had to get away the sand bar by his own labor, but the venture proved successful, and after a time he sold out for $2,000. Then he bought a store and some years later found himself in a position to purchase the controlling interest in an ocean steamship company.

Senator Perkins tells a story of a scene in a courtroom on the Pacific coast where a man arrested for robbery vehemently asserted his innocence even after he had been convicted by a jury.

"May the Almighty strike me dead on this spot if I am not innocent," he shouted.

The judge waited for a minute or two; then he said, "Well, prisoner, as Providence has not interfered I will take a hand and sentence you to three years at hard labor."

Andrew Carnegie is very free with his money, but he has for years made it a rule not to sign notes. He says he can pay cash when he has any obligations to settle or wishes to accommodate a friend by a loan. As a witness at the trial of Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick in Cleveland he testified concerning notes which she negotiated at banks on the strength of his supposed signature.

Mr. Carnegie likes to have his little joke as well as anybody. Some time ago the members of the Iron and Steel Institute of Great Britain were visiting the United States, and the great steel magnate was with them during their stay in Washington. A local reporter approached a short, well groomed gentleman wearing the badge of the institution, and the following conversation occurred:

"I beg pardon," said the reporter, "but would you kindly give me your opinion concerning the iron and steel industry of the United States? How does it compare with the progress made in your country?"

"You Americans are wonderful people," responded the visitor. "Do you know, although the members of the institute have not yet seen very much of the work in this country, we are constantly scratching our heads to keep up with you."

The conversation continued in this strain for some moments until the reporter, flushed with the apparent success of his efforts to get an interview, requested the stranger's name. The gentleman handed the inquisitor a card and hurried away. It bore the name "Andrew Carnegie."

President Samuel Spencer of the Southern railway opposes government supervision of railway rates, but says he would like to see rates abolished. He is credited with knowing more about the details of railway management than any other man in the country, and J. Pierpont Morgan, whose partner he was for some years, reposes great trust in his judgment. Measured by his inches, Mr. Spencer is a small man for a big position. Short, wiry and a bundle of energy, he has come to be considered one of the giants in the world of industry.

Besides being president of the Southern he is the executive head of five other roads and a director in several more. Naturally he is a busy man. When he was in the firm of Morgan, Drexel & Co. he was in much demand for consultation on railway projects. A man with 25,000 acres of coal land to sell, 60,000,000 tons in sight, visited Mr. Morgan's office day after day to strike a bargain and was invariably and at last forbiddingly told that he must see Mr. Spencer. Taking the hint, he called on Mr. Spencer three times a day for three weeks, being always informed by some understrapper that Mr. Spencer was not in. One day he camped beside the door until he saw Mr. Spencer enter the office, then handed in his card. "Mr. Spencer is not in town and," "Here, boy, you just present that card and tell Samuel Spencer that his time is as valuable as his. I want one minute by the watch and no more. Do you understand, sir?" He was invited to enter. Watch in hand, he stated his business without needless prolixity and when the minute was up started out. Mr. Spencer begged him not to go in a hurry and kept him there half an hour talking coal.

Mr. Spencer was born in Georgia fifty-eight years ago and is a graduate both of the University of Georgia and the University of Virginia. He started in life as a clerk and worked his way up

Has Heard the Song.

"Did you ever meet the sweet singer of Michigan?"

"I guess I must have. A Kalamazoo drummer who was around here last summer sold me goods that I didn't want to the tune of $200."

Just to Be Stealing.

He stole a kiss a secret offense. But he didn't get away with it. The stealing was a mere pretense. The kiss was really free.

Larger Scale.

"They are getting gold out in quartz."

"To hear him talk you would think they were getting it out in basins."

There Should Be.

"Ta, what is a poet's house?"

"I don't know, my son. Perhaps there is an open season for poets."

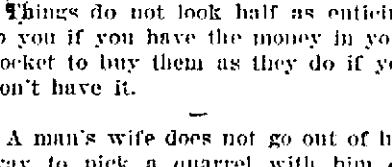

When to Run.

He was fighting and was a winner. He was a winner and was a fighter. He was a winner and was a fighter. He was a winner and was a fighter.

Talent to Be Acquired.

"There seems to be a cat in a engineer."

"He won't take after her if there is anything evil about him."

A Baby's Birth

is very much like the blossoming of a flower. Its beauty and perfection depends entirely upon the care bestowed upon its parent. Expectant mothers should have the tenderest care. They should be spared all worry and anxiety. They should eat plenty of good nourishing food and take gentle exercises. This will go a long way toward preserving their health and their beauty as well as that of the little one to come. But to be absolutely sure of a short and painless labor they should use regularly during the months of gestation. This is a simple liniment, which is to be applied externally. It gives strength and vigor to the muscles and prevents all of the discomforts of pregnancy, which women used to think were absolutely necessary. When Mother's Friend is used there is no danger when the time comes. Get Mother's Friend at the drug store, $1 per bottle.

IMPROVEMENTS AT BUCKEYE LAKE

ARE BEING PUSHED BY MANAGER WILL D. HARRIS AND FORCE OF MEN.

New Loop Almost Finished—Two Lakes to be Joined in Few Days. Plans for Hotel.

Buckeye Lake Park will be opened on May 14 and Idlewild Park will have its opening on June 18th.

Manager Will D. Harris is now busy with a gang of men at the lake getting affairs in shape for the opening. By night the Interurban loop will be finished and cars from Hebron to the lake will then be better able to handle crowds from Columbus, Newark and other points. Track is being laid so as to allow cars to turn at the lake and to make entrance and exit easier and safer.

The artificial lake just north of the large body of water is now almost drained and during the week the bed will be cleaned and put in condition for the many car loads of sand that will be brought from Lake Erie. The bath house has been taken to the artificial lake and will be fitted up there after the improvements are made.

Civil Engineer Fred Cully is arranging to cut the lake within a few days to join the big body of water with the artificial lake.

The traction company has two engines and sixteen gravel cars at Hebron for the purpose of hauling gravel to the lake and along the line of the Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark road from Hibernia.

Mr. Harris says that plans for the company's 50-room hotel at the lake will be prepared by Architect Carl Howell of Columbus, who is now at the University of Pennsylvania, and that work on the new hotel will begin in June. The hotels at the lake being built by Mr. John Glass and O. Woolard are nearing completion. Fishing is now good at the lake and Friday's storm brought in a large number of ducks.

Notice went out to all the stove molders' unions in Ohio Thursday that the scale for the coming year has been signed by their national officers and the National Founders' Association.

The scale fixes the wages the same as were paid in the past year. The only exception to this is in the case of the men who act as substitutes for molders who are taken sick or are otherwise unable for the time to work. These are to receive the regular pay and 25 per cent additional on their work. There is to be an apprentice allowed to every five journeymen employed.

New Plan Inaugurated by Ohio Sunday School Association—Time and Place of Meeting.

The new plan inaugurated by the Ohio Sunday School Association for quickening the Sunday school work in the counties is proving to be very successful. It provides for the sending of a tour party of four or five Sunday school specialists through the townships of the county, spending one day in each.

A tour has been planned for Licking county for the last fifteen days in April and the conventions will be held as follows:

Friday, April 21—M. E. church, Jacksontown, Licking tp.

Friday, April 28—M. E. church, Kirkersville, Harrison tp.

Sunday, April 30—U. B. church, Fatahala, Lima and Jersey tp.

The tour party will consist of Mr. C. W. Shinn of Columbus, Mr. W. A. Holmes of Granville, Mr. A. T. Nelson of Ashland, Miss Bessie Mast of Millersburg, who will have charge of the singing, and Mr. E. L. Taylor of Alexandria. The tour party will carry its own song books, black board, banners etc. These meetings are of the institute character, and are proving very helpful to all Sunday school workers. Every school in the respective townships should be well represented.

The program consists of morning, afternoon and evening sessions: the first beginning at 10 a. m., the afternoon at 1:30, and the evening at 7, standard time.

Many helpful things will be discussed, and it is hoped that the party will receive the hearty co-operation of all who are interested in Sunday school work.
